Willard Marine offers a large variety of aluminum and fiberglass vessels designed to handle the rigorous missions of any fire/rescue team. These proven fire boat designs range in size from 23-foot aluminum roustabouts for inland waterways operations, to our 60-foot Search and Rescue vessel capable of enduring rough conditions in open water.

Willard Marine fire boats can be optimized to your department's needs with various options for pumps, engines, console layouts, cabin designs and collars. Whether you need a trailerable boat for a harbor or lake, or a larger cabin vessel for the most challenging sea states, Willard Marine can build to your demanding fire boat specifications.

For more available options and to get started on your new fire boat, contact Willard Marine today.
